Value, Value, Value.

With savings on PRA Academy programs, an Organizational Membership is a cost-efficient and comprehensive solution to provide professional development and continuing education credits to your staff all year long.

Together with our members, PRA promotes a world in which individuals with mental illness can recover to achieve successful and satisfying lives in the working, learning and social environments of their choice. For more than 40 years, PRA has been dedicated to providing access, advocacy and strategies to implement state-of-the-art psychiatric rehabilitation and recovery-oriented practices through professional credentialing, research, service outcomes and networking.

In partnership with the Psychiatric Rehabilitation Foundation (PRF) and its Academy for Psychiatric Rehabilitation and Recovery, we are able to provide state-of-the-art training for psychiatric rehabilitation practitioners around the globe.

As a member, you help PRA advance the availability and practice of psychiatric rehabilitation. Through growing and training the recovery workforce, PRA works to ensure that all individuals with mental illness have access to the resources they need to recover. Your support is the key to ensuring PRA serves as the “go-to” organization supporting you and the psychiatric rehabilitation field and community, including offering career-spanning education and training opportunities.

“As an occupational therapy practitioner and educator, my affiliation with PRA has been an invaluable resource. Specializing in mental health practice, my affiliation with PRA has kept me close to the most relevant research and news related to recovery-oriented practices. My PRA membership opens my world to a transdisciplinary community of practitioners, peers, and educators who are as passionate as I am. And my CPRP certification has bolstered my credibility as a mental health OT practitioner among my OT colleagues.”

- David M. Merlo, MS, COTA, CPRP, ROH

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

Psychiatric Rehabilitation Journal:

Published quarterly through a partnership with the American Psychological Association, the journal features peer-reviewed articles about innovative PSR programming, research, best practices, and abstracts of current literature - a $165 value.

Check It Out & Recovery Update:

Stay current on the field of psychiatric rehabilitation and recovery through PRA's weekly and monthly e-newsletters.

Training and Events

Take advantage of members-only discounts on registration for the Academy's online and live training events, including the Annual Wellness and Recovery Summit or schedule one-of-a-kind custom training just for your organization. Members can earn continuing education credit hours for the CPRP and CFRP, as well as a variety of other professional certifications and licenses.

Credentialing:

Advance your career or your agency by supporting staff to earn the Certified Psychiatric Rehabilitation Practitioner (CPRP) or Certified Child and Family Resiliency Practitioner (CFRP): Members and member agencies receive discounts on all fees associated with the CPRP and CFRP program, including the exam application and recertification. Members save over $100 on the exam application fee alone!

Discounted rates in the Career Center

PRA's Career Center offers employers targeted access to quality psychiatric rehabilitation professionals, along with quick and easy job posting and online job activity reports.

Access to PRA's Online Individual and Organizational Member Directories

Search for colleagues at organizations in your region or fellow CPRP's / CFRP's.

Networking

Connect with colleagues to share information and ideas! Participate in PRA Committees and network with members or state and local chapters.

Volunteer Opportunities

Volunteer with PRA and connect with a vast, diverse community of peers and colleagues.
